

TENNIS EXPERTS BRAVE RAIN

CHAMPIONSHIP AT NEWPORT ON SODDEN COURTS.

McLaughlin, the Californian, shows his prowess, defeating R. M. Grant, Southern champion, in straight sets, and Wright wins from Dr. Rosenbaum.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 15.—There was little opportunity for the lawn tennis experts to show class in the opening round of the thirtieth annual national championship which began on the Casino courts this morning in a downpour of rain.

It was a repetition of a year ago when the difference that instead of a postponed tournament the experts decided that all of the 181 aspirants for the title held by William A. Larned must play and that the first round of fifty-three matches must be disposed of.

The decision was somewhat disagreeable to many of the players, but they went to the task as best they could, and no reversals of form were chalked up. In several instances, notably that of Beatty Wright, ex-champion, Richard H. Palmer, New Jersey State champion, and Frederick C. Inman, New York State winner at Bay Ridge, there were narrow escapes.

The leaders who displayed constant form were the Californian, Maurice E. McLaughlin, and the two Virginians, Heuben A. Holden III and F. M. Watrous.

Hard hitting was the feature of the match, for the ball soon gathered water from the sodden courts. The weather also had the effect of diminishing the color in dresses there were buff and drab mackintoshes and umbrellas.

McLaughlin had the honor of opening the court tournament on the championship stretch of turf, the faced the Southern champion, R. M. Grant of Atlanta, Ga., defeating him, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Grant's chop drive that fell short after crossing the net found a victim in the first set.

In changing sides, McLaughlin complained to his team mate, Frederick Hendrick, that the turf was so wet that he could not get a good grip on the ball. He was not alone in his complaint. Many of the other players were complaining.

Wright, who with McLaughlin is considered the key to the final of the tournament, experienced more trouble with Dr. William Rosenbaum. The final score in Wright's favor was 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. In the first set, however, Dr. Rosenbaum took great chances in driving for the tie.

At this critical time he made a double fault on service. Wright won the game after a close battle, but he turned the corner and took three of four more games and won the match.

His net playing was the feature of the other sets. Wright slashed and hit severe overhead so that Dr. Rosenbaum was outplayed, scoring only three games in the remainder of the match.

Both Palmer and Inman narrowly escaped defeat. The former lost a set to Thomas Siddle, but he won the match, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. This match was decided in the pouring rain and the heavy ball made it impossible to determine the proper line of play.

Inman defeated Walter L. Pate, the Brooklyn champion, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0. Pate led 5-2 on the first set and 4-2 on the second. Each time the lead was in his favor a heavy shower came.

Among the defeated players was Vincent Astor, son of the millionaire, who played well, taking a set, but the steadiness and aggressiveness of Pauline Foster won at 6-3, 6-1, 6-0.

At Newport forty-five results were chalked up on the board. It was a record for the opening round of a national tournament. There were twenty-five matches in the first round, and the championship match.

To-morrow it is proposed to clear the second round, and the championship match. The doubles team of Harold G. Hackett and Frederick C. Inman, defending against the Pacific Coast champions, Thomas C. Bundy and Frederick W. Hendrick, will be the main event of the morning on the championship court.

It is raining heavily, but the courts are being protected with tarpaulins. The summary of the national championship follows:

First round: C. Drummond Jones defeated J. F. Davidson, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Harry Seymour by default. Richard H. Palmer defeated Thomas Siddle, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. F. M. Watrous by default. R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Second round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Third round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Fourth round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Fifth round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Sixth round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Seventh round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Eighth round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Ninth round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Tenth round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Eleventh round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

Twelfth round: R. M. Grant defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated R. M. Grant, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0. Vincent Astor by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default. J. F. Davidson by default.

ONE MOTOR BOAT FOR TRIAL

Bestless Goes Over Course Alone. British Boats Held Up.

The race between British and American motor boats for the British international cup is scheduled for next Saturday. The British challengers, Maple Leaf II, Ziegler and Miranda IV, arrived here on the steamer Minnetonka yesterday morning, and the eliminating trials held for the purpose of selecting the three defenders for the trophy were to have been started yesterday over the course at Huntington.

Just one boat, the Bestless, showed up for the trials, and the three British boats are still on the Minnetonka because of some red tape in the Custom House.

These races are being managed by the Motor Boat Club of America, the Automobile Club of America and the Yacht Club of America. Each club seems to have its own committee and there is one general committee, and the result is that there is a fine middle.

This committee is sure that there will be no severe rain to-day and that the races are disappearing and the day for the big race is rapidly approaching, and these clubs are not nearly ready to defend the cup. They have had only a few days to build the boats and try them out.

According to Charles P. Tower of the Bestless, owned by T. F. Chesbrough, Naples, owned by August Hecker, and the Maple Leaf II, owned by F. R. Burnham, a hydroplane owned by Whitaker and Francis, R. G. E. owned by Harris Hamilton, Hamilton, owned by Mr. S. S. K. Skinner, owned by Dr. Brant of the Hudson River Yacht Club, and the Miranda IV, owned by Mr. S. S. K. Skinner, owned by Dr. Brant of the Hudson River Yacht Club.

The Bestless is fitted with two 120-horsepower engines and she is the fastest boat in the Atlantic. She is owned by the Atlantic Yacht Club at Halesite. She was on hand and went around the course in half an hour and a half. Her efforts are being made to get her repaired so she can start in the race.

The Maple Leaf II was shipped from the Thousand Islands on Saturday and is expected to arrive here on Wednesday. The Bestless is not yet finished. The question reached Huntington yesterday. The Maple Leaf II, owned by F. R. Burnham, is not yet finished. The question reached Huntington yesterday.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Black Bridge, an odds on favorite, won the steeplechase, at about 2 miles in Hildreth's colors. He went from the front when called upon and galloped home three lengths in front of his nearest rival. The latter led for more than a mile and took the place by six lengths from the front. The race was run in 1:12.5.

MARTINEZ WINS THE MOHAWK

BEATS CHERRYOLA AND CHIEF KEE IN SELLING STAKES.

Folle Levy Takes Handicap for Martine. Miss Nell Beats a Big Field Steeplechase for Black Bridge Handicap and Jupiter Joe Succeeded at Saratoga.

SARATOGA, Aug. 15.—Martinez, a colt by Mazzagan, owned by the Chelsea Stable, captured the $2,000 Mohawk Selling Stakes, for three-year-olds, one mile and a half, long here to-day. He was a lukewarm favorite at 12 to 5, Chief Kee and Jacqueline both receiving liberal support. Shilling took J. T. Ireland's Cherryola, 4 to 1, to the front without delay and made the running until he reached the homestretch. There Martinez, who had been following closely, took command and won in a gallop by three lengths in 1:54. Cherryola secured the place by a safe margin over Chief Kee, who was hard driven to beat Jacqueline by a half a length. Preford and Perry Johnson, held cheaply in the speculation, ran accordingly.

Folle Levy, 5 to 1, won the handicap for mares of all ages, six furlongs, by half a length. He caught the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene's Melinda, 13 to 5, who came from the rack, after being shut off by a determined rush. Melinda had a long over the top, but she just beat Mary Davis, 13 to 5, for third money. The race was run in 1:12.5.

Frederick Johnson's Miss Nell, 4 to 1, made all the running in the first race, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, and won by half a length. She was followed by the favorite, Miss Nell, who made the late quarter pole, and then under a hard drive she stood off the challenge of James R. Keene